IN MEMORIAM.

On the night of May 28th, 1907 the little spirit of Beulah Berry took its flight to a brighter and better world. Another one of earth's choicest flowers has been taken and transplanted in Heaven to bloom forevermore. She was a child of unusually bright mind and a favorite with everyone, being the youngest child of the beloved parents. Her loss is deeply felt, and the whole community extend to them their heart-felt sympathy. All that medical power, care and attention of friends and parents was of no avail, God in his infinite love and tender mercy saw cause to remove her to a far happier home where no sorrow can come. Her little hands are now folded in silent sleep, and she has bid earthly pleasures an eternal good-bye. Death when it summons the aged is sad, but doubly so indeed it is when it calls for the pure and innocent bud of childhood.

May the father and mother feel that the loss of their Darling is only a shining light ever calling them to come. Oh weep no more for Beulah the angels now shield her from all harm.

Heaven has your treasure, Earth the little casket keeps;
But the golden sunbeams will linger, Where your darling baby sleeps.

BREAD-WINNING OCCUPATION OF SOME WOMEN.

Washington, May 27.—The variety of occupations in which women may make themselves useful is probably not appreciated by many who lead the sheltered life.

A census report just published discloses the rather surprising fact that women, according to the last count made, are engaged in gainful occupations as motormen, two being reported so employed; as pilots, five being in that profession; and as baggagemen on steam railroads, ten reporting themselves in the baggage-smashing business. In other lines supposed to be monopolized by men it is found that there are thirty-one women brakemen, seven conductors (of street cars) forty-five engineers and firemen, twenty-six switchmen, yardmen and flagmen, forty-three hack drivers, six ship carpenters, two roofers and slaters, 185 blacksmiths, 508 machinist eight boiler makers, thirty-two charcoal, coke and lime burners, and eleven well borers.

Women are employed in 303 bread-winning occupations, of which domestic service embraces the largest number of the 4,833,630 women in Continental United States engaged in gainful occupations in 1900 one fourth or 1,243,883 were working as servants. The next most important occupation for woman is that of farm laborer, no less than 456,405 women are following this occupation. These figures will be better understood when it is added that most of these farm laborers—98 per cent of them are reported from the Southern States. It is also shown that 277,727 of these women laborers are members of farmers' families, the wives and grown-up daughters assisting in the farm work.

Three-fifths of the total number of women reported as bread winners were found in the six more important women occupations, viz., dressmakers, teachers, laundresses, servants, farm laborers and farmers laborers, the most important numerically are the dressmakers, here being 388,144 women in this occupation. As independent farmers, 307,706 were employed.

The total number of women reported as textile mill operatives is 231,458 or one-seventh of the total number of women employed.

There were 142,265 women employed as salesmen and 138,724 women employed as seamstresses. Of teachers there were 327,206 and of laundresses 328,935.

The figures of the census might be interpreted as showing that the greater independence of women, as independence of women, as indicated in their increasing employment in gainful occupations contributes to the popular institution known as divorce. Of the number of divorced women reported by the census, more than half were found to be supporting themselves by their own earnings.

The total number of women sixteen years of age and over in Continental United States when the census was taken was 23,485,559. A little over one fifth of this number were at work in gainful occupations.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Chas. C. Davis, druggist.

C. Guaranteed for piles burns, etc., by Chas. C. Davis druggist. 25c.

Mr. Smith leaves behind him his wife and several children, besides a host of other relatives and friends to mourn their loss. But weep not, dear friends, it was God's will, to call him home and your loss, we hope, is heaven's gain. Mr. Smith was a social, upright man and always stood for the right. His remains were brought back here Thursday and laid to rest in the family burying ground to await the summons of the last great day.

the people of this country.

THIRTEEN YEAR LOCUSTS.

This is the year of the visitation of the Southern thirteen-year brood of locusts and the Bureau of Entomology of the Department of Agriculture at Washington has issued a circular designed to benefit the sections of the county which will suffer from it. The brood this year is the largest of its kind on record, the annals of the Government go back to 1803. Every time it has appeared since, a record of its migrations has been made, the last one in 1894. It is announced by the bureau that this year the brood will come in May and June, and the States in which it will make its appearance are throughout the Southern States East of Texas, except Florida, Northward in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, through Missouri to Southeastern Iowa, over most of Central and Southern Illinois, extreme Southwestern Indiana, Western Kentucky, and more or less of Tennessee with extensions across the Carolinas into Virginia.

On several occasions in the past when the brood has been studied carefully it has come in conjunction with some of the brood of the Northern seventeen-year race, and there has been some overlapping of territory. But this year there will be no Northern or seventeen-year brood, so that it should be possible to clear up any uncertainty as to distribution.

The counties in Kentucky which will be visited by the locusts this spring are Carlisle, Graves, Lyon, McCracken and Marshall. In Tennessee the counties of Bedford, Blount, Cocke, Davidson, Gibson, Giles, Greene, Hambleton, Hamilton, Hickman, Jefferson, Knox, Lawrence, McMinn, Marion, Monroe, Montgomery, Rutherford, Sevier, Stewart, Wayne, Williamson and Wilson.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1.— Justice John M. Harlan, one of the associate justices of the United States Supreme Court, enters upon his seventy-fifth year to-day.
He was appointed from Kentucky and has been on the supreme bench thirty years, or eleven years longer than Chief Justice Fuller, who comes next in point of service. Justice Harlan is seemingly as full of health as the best of men and though he has been eligible to retirement for several years he apparently entertains no idea of quitting the bench at any very early date. A change in administration is probably about the only thing that might bring about his retirement very soon. He is a Republican and a pretty strict party man, and should the Democrats win next year he would probably give President Roosevelt the privilege of appointing his successor.

Chief Justice O'Rear of the Court of Appeals, the other Judges sitting within, Tuesday afternoon heard a motion and argument to dissolve a writ of mandamus granted by Circuit Judge Frank Peake of the Anderson Circuit Court, to require County Judge Shelby, of Anderson, to give the citizens of Lawrenceburg a separate election recently ordered for the entire county.

The Chief Justice rendered immediate decision upon the motion, sustaining the ruling of Judge Peake. The motion was argued by L. W. McKee, L. H. Carter and Wilkes H. Morgan, of Lawrenceburg. The County Judge will now have to rearrange the cull for the election and give the town of Lawrenceburg a separate election on the same day the county votes upon the question of the sale of liquor. The ruling of the court follows the recent decision in which the highest court held that where the city asks for it, it is entitled to hold separate elections.

Two Louisville and four Lexington national banks have filed suits at Frankfort asking an injunction restraining the State Board of Valuation and Assessment from making permanent the assessments made against them. The suit is based on the recent decision of the Supreme Court.

The Lancaster Record says: Every man, woman and child in Lancaster and Garrard county has cause for rejoicing and being exceedingly glad. The necessary money has been raised and a modern, up-to-date hotel will be erected at once. It was a hard struggle, but energy and public spirit won.
The hotel will be erected on the old site, covering all the ground formerly occupied by both hotel and opera house, thus making a much more roomy and convenient hotel. Attorney R. H. Tomlinson, Lewis L. Walker and J. E. Rodin-son were appointed a committee, at last night's meeting, to draw articles of incorporation, and other committees appointed to select name and attend to other matters necessary. This will be arranged at to-night's meeting, and in the next issue of The record you will read of the final plans. All honor to Lancaster's public-spirited citizens. We're out of the woods, so let's give three cheers and a tiger."

What to do in Dyspepsia Dieting has become a great fad in America, and just as, years ago, we, as a nation, over-ate, so now we are under-eating. The one is as bad as the other.

Man needs food and plenty of it to sus-tain life and to give strength to compete in this busy world.

It is not, however, the fact that you may eat too much that hurts you, but that you don't digest what you eat.
And if that results in dyspepsia you will cure the trouble by cutting down your food supply. If your digestive organs were creating the proper amount of gastric and peptic juices you would have no dyspepsia. To cure the disease you must create an abundance of these necessary juices.
This can only be done by a reliable tonic laxative, and as its name indicates, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin contains the very ingredients needed to do this. Take it regularly for a while according to the explicit directions on each bottle and you will soon be cured of dyspepsia and any of the accompanying symptoms such as heartburn, sour stomach, bloated stomach, hives, pinpoints, salivary complications, wind on the stomach, etc. Every bottle carries with it an absolute guarantee to do what we claim. It is a gentle, pleasant, effective laxative and you will like its taste and be pleased with its action.
One of the great friends of this remedy is Harry F. Kestor, a Lieutenant in one of the Chicago companies that fought at the battle of Santiago. While in the wet trenches, and eating the rough food of a soldier, he contracted severe dyspepsia and lost weight and strength.
A friend in the regiment called his attention to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which he promptly began to use. It not only cured his dyspepsia but increased his weight 45 pounds.
Your druggist will sell you a bottle at 50 cents or $1 and you will find it worth a hundred times that to you.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease, indigestion, heartburn, sour stomach, bloated stomach, hives, pinpoints, salivary complications, wind on the stomach, etc. A guaranteed, permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin." This product bears purity guarantee No. 17, Washington, D. C.

TELEPHONE station managers have been instructed to enforce the five minute rule. This is done for the better dispatch of business. Telephone users should keep this in mind and save paying for extra time over the five minutes.

Mrs. John Cook, who was here a few days since, is having the lot in which her husband and other relatives are buried, dug up and cleared of all rubbish and unsightly shrubbery. We call attention to our advertisers and urge upon our readers the importance of reading the advertisements each week. It only takes a few moments and in nine cases out of ten you will always find quoted the very thing you want and many times at a reduced price. Money saved is money made and the merchant who advertises, pushes his business instead of letting his business push him, is the man who is always looking out for bargains for his customers. Advertising is a three-handed affair; it pays the merchant, it pays the newspaper man and it pays the buying public, who trade with those who advertise.

Over in Winchester the merchants have organized a Protective Association which includes most of the prominent business men of the city. Its principal object is to avoid bad debts, and to limit the extensive and much abused credit system, so long in vogue. Each member will be furnished each week with a list of citizens who are slow paying, or who try to avoid payment of their debt at all. The Association will begin work the first of June, and it will be a difficult matter for people to get around paying their debts, as on their failure to do so they will be promptly refused credit.—Danville Advocate.

Bright Chasteen shot an "unknown Italian at Conway Saturday but the wounds are not serious. The Italian had entered Chasteen's home during the absence of himself and family, taking possession of everything in the house, even going to sleep on the bed without removing his muddy shoes or clothing. If the reports as given to us be true, most anyone having the same experience would have done as did Mr. Chasteen and many would have made more certain their aim.

Many telephone users fail to observe even the simplest directions and regulations in talking over the wires and cause no end of annoyance to others as well as to themselves. Old telephone users are often as great offenders as those who first attempt to use the phone. If you wish to get satisfaction out of the wires just remember to observe some of the plain directions. When you call over toll line and receive answer, first tell who and where you are then state your wishes. When you are called answer by giving the name of your place or phone. In local exchanges it is not necessary to state where you are, as the drop number on board tells that itself but you should in "answering" a call say "no 99" or what ever the number of the phone is. Instead of saying "who is that?" ask if it is so and so, when you get an answer to a call.

With the closing examinations Tuesday, the Brown Memorial School completed another successful year's work. The musical which had been arranged for the closing had to be postponed on account of the serious condition of J. M. McDonald's throat, who had a leading part in the exercises. The musical will be given some time during the week of June 24th. On yesterday Miss Taylor, the principal, took all the students who had been regular in attendance during the Spring term, to Langford for a picnic. With banners floating representing the college colors, between fifty and seventy-five boys and girls with light hearts, proud of their successful year's work, and glad that that vacation had come, spent a most pleasant day fishing, strolling along the river banks telling each other of their little ups and downs, familiar to all school boys and girls. Dr. A. G. Lovell and Mr. von Eichen did much to assist Miss Taylor and the other members of the faculty in arranging for this pleasant day's outing.
